GERMAN HORDES IN AFRICA FORCED TO SURRENDER TO ENGLISH COMMANDER

DEFEAT RELEASES A LARGE NUMBER OF ENGLAND'S SOLDIERS

Pretoria, July 9. (Via London, 2:03 p. m.)—The Germans surrendered unconditionally following the issuance of General Botha's ultimatum which expired at 5 o'clock Thursday evening.

With the exception of the necessary army occupation the army will be brought home as quickly as possible.

Pretoria, South Africa, (via London) July 9.—General Botha, commander of the Union of South Africa, has accepted the surrender of all German military forces in German Southwest Africa.

After suppressing the rebellion against British authority in the Union of South Africa, General Botha took command of the British operations against German Southwest Africa and headed the invasion of that territory late in February. His operations were reported to be uniformly successful.

The forces under his command captured Olymbingue on May 4. Two days later it was announced that he had occupied the important railway junction of Karibib and other stations after a march (Continued On Page 8.)

CINCINNATI DEATH TOLL NOW THIRTY

Cincinnati, July 9.—With the total death list reaching thirty, and with the list of missing slowly decreasing, Cincinnati today began burying its dead, the human toll taken by the storm of Wednesday night.

Conditions today were entirely normal, in so far as the public utilities were concerned.

The search for the six members of the crew of the steamer Conroy has almost been abandoned and they have practically been given up as lost. If this proves true the death list will be swelled to thirty-six.

Probably the most pathetic incident of the storm occurred today when one funeral service was held for eleven of the victims. Caskets contained five bodies of members of the family of Meyer Tannenbaum, while six other caskets contained the members of the Cohen family.

The Tannenbaums and Cohens were closely related. Coroner Fortmeyer Friday decided to begin at once his investigation into the deaths of the victims of Wednesday night's storm. The first inquest taken up is in the case of Humano Secretary Officer James Allen, killed at the Odd Fellows' Temple.

The coroner announced that he would proceed with the inquest as rapidly as possible, so that a complete report would be available within a few days. He said that he expects to take up the Harry Yanofsky investigation after the witnesses in the Allen death have concluded. Relatives of Lee and Grace Spicer, who died when their houseboat in the foot of Mount Echo road was overturned, claimed the bodies Friday and asked that they be sent to Huntington, W. Va., for burial.

NERVES WON'T LET EVELYN TESTIFY

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, subpoenaed in the Adirondacks, paid a flying visit to New York on July 6, bought a new hat and returned to the camp owned by her dancing partner, Jack Clifford, without testifying in the Thaw sanity hearing. She was excused from taking the stand when she insisted her nerves would not stand the ordeal. She says she will remain at Clifford's camp until fall. She looks the picture of health.

KAISER'S NOTE GIVEN TO GERARD, REFUSES AMERICANS SAFETY

Berlin, July 9.—10:50 a. m.—(Via London 1:50 p. m.)—The German reply to the American note regarding the sinking of the Lusitania and submarine warfare was delivered to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador in Berlin, late last night.

The note now is being translated and it will go forward to Washington some time today. Certain paragraphs embodying the principal features of the German offer already have been dispatched to Washington, but the final sections of the communication probably will not be on the wire for transmission before a late hour this afternoon. This is because the note is of considerable length.

The text of the note will meanwhile be withheld from the newspaper correspondents and permission for the transmission of summaries is being withheld. This is done to give the official version the right of way.

Washington, July 9.—Delivery of Germany's reply to the American note on submarine warfare to Ambassador Gerard in Berlin last night should bring the official text to the state department here probably tomorrow and undoubtedly by Sunday.

President Wilson is expected to return from the summer White House at Cornish to lay the reply before the cabinet at a meeting Tuesday. On the basis of the outline to Ambassador Gerard the government declined to engage in any supplementary remarks because the German proposals were regarded as such which the United States could not accept without sacrificing many of its rights.

OFFICIALS ARE DISAPPOINTED

Meanwhile, there is renewal of tension of what the next step will be. Although officials would not comment, saying that the phraseology first must be studied, the general undertone in official quarters was one of disappointment. What the president's course will be no official would predict, but it was evident that another critical stage in the relations between Germany and the United States was being reached.

ATTACK TEUTON SHIP IN NEUTRAL WATERS

Berlin, July 9. (By Wireless to Sayville).—Among the items given out for distribution abroad today by the Overseas News Agency was the following:

"According to latest reports the German steamship Pallas of Munsburg, was attacked in Norwegian territorial waters by an armed English trawler which fired twice at the steamer. The English auxiliary cruiser Victoria assisted in the violation of neutrality rights, until a Norwegian guard ship arrived. The guard ship secured the release of the steamer and eleven men from her who had been arrested by the British in violation of international law. 'The Norwegian government has protested to Great Britain against this violation of neutral rights.'

Moundsville, W. Va., July 9.—Employed by convicts in the West Virginia penitentiary here with money collected by them yesterday Martin W. Brown, an attorney, left during the night for Charleston to plead with Governor Hatfield for the life of Matt Jarrel, who was sentenced to be hanged at sunset today for the murder of Silas Nace, town marshal of Eskdale. Jarrel's aged mother arrived here last night from Kanawha county and will remain until the sentence of the court is carried out or the reprieve is granted.

U. S. SEEKS 14 MEN

San Francisco, July 9.—Federal officers were conducting a search today for fourteen men accused in indictments returned yesterday by the federal grand jury of violations of American neutrality. Ralph K. Blair, formerly a lieutenant in the British army, who is alleged to have aided in recruiting soldiers here for England, was the only one of the sixteen indicted to surrender voluntarily. Harry G. Lane, a former British soldier, was arrested last night. Three other individuals are to be tried on a charge of recruiting soldiers.

Yes sir-ee; you just betcher life this is some summer. Folks who kick on a summer like this are hopeless—they'd kick on anything. This is what I call a summer especially calculated for havin' a good time. I've been havin' several of 'em and expect t' have another tomorrow when I go out with that there blamed Masonic goat for a picnic. I'm t' furnish th' weather and he's gunna furnish th' picnic. Here's my part: Ohio—Fair tonight and Saturday, moderate temperature. Kentucky—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, probably showers west portion. West Virginia—Fair today and Saturday. Slightly warmer tonight.

BURNING STEAMER SAFE AT HALIFAX

Halifax, N. S., July 9.—The Atlantic Transport liner Minnehaha, which caught fire Wednesday on her way from New York to London with 15,000 tons of war munitions on board, after an explosion which may have been caused by an infernal machine sent aboard by Frank Holt, J. P. Morgan's assailant, steamed slowly through mist and drizzling rain into Halifax harbor today. Early wireless advices from Captain Claret indicated that the flames had been mastered during the night, that the blaze had been all but extinguished, and that all danger apparently was passed. The flames were confined to number three hold which is a considerable distance from the spot where were stored the thousands of cases of cordite, loaded shrapnel shells, cartridges, oils and other explosives and inflammable material which the Minnehaha was conveying to England for use of the British army.

MEXICAN ARRAIGNED

El Paso, Tex., July 9.—Jose Alejo Robles, former Mexican general, was arraigned by federal authorities charged with conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws. In default of $5,000 bond he was taken to jail.

Want Congress To Make Country Dry

Atlantic City, N. J., July 9.—The National Convention of the Anti-Saloon League today unanimously adopted resolutions formulated by the board of directors of the organization urging congress to submit the question of national prohibition to the people of the country by referring to the state legislatures for ratification of a joint resolution proposing a prohibitory amendment to the federal constitution. The reasons declare that national prohibition is the "supreme temperance issue before the American people."

A feature of the morning session was the starting of an automobile on the water wagon tour over the Lincoln Highway which will end in San Francisco in September. The Rev. Howard S. Russell, who founded the anti-saloon league 22 years ago, is at the head of the party. Campaign speeches will be made all the way across the continent.

A number of addresses were made during the forenoon session, among the speakers being Charles Stelzole, New York.

RUSSIAN BARK IS TORPEDOED

London, July 9.—The Russian bark Marion Lightbody was sunk off Queenstown today by a German submarine. The crew was saved.

The bark, which was of 2,176 tons gross, left Valparaiso March 23 for an English port.

$20,000,000 CREDIT FOR FRANCE

New York, July 9.—Negotiations virtually have been completed here for a new French credit amounting to $20,000,000 to be used exclusively for commercial purposes.

J. P. Morgan and Co. and a group of national banks and trust companies will participate in the transaction it is stated.

ICE MEN KICK

Cleveland, July 9.—Officials of local ice company said today that the cold weather which has prevailed during the summer so far over their sales 25 to 40 over last year. The same conditions prevail throughout the state, they said.

S'Death; Dampness Demoralizes Duds Of Our Dudes And Dames

Whatever you do, don't blame the weather man, for goodness only knows he can't help it. He would if he could but—, you know.

Don'tless you have seen the disheveled Beau Brummels walking down Chillicothe street during the past week. And you have probably noticed the creaseless craves where the crease ought to be in their trousers.

You have also seen the fair ladies coming down said street with their once wavy locks wild waving in the breeze, have you not? Sure.

Thought at first that they were misty, did you not? Yes. Well, you were mistaken—it isn't their fault. They say it is the weather-man's fault, he in turn passes the buck to old Jupe Pluvius of watery fame. "I cannot see why it's got to rain all the time," said one of Portsmouth's Beau Brummels last night. "Why, I sent this suit to have it cleaned and pressed only yesterday, wore it last night, got caught in the rain and look at it now. Looks as if I had been laying back instead of selling neckties."

And the girls, too, they are up in arms. You have noticed that upward motion of their when a stray strand of hair peeped out of their bonnet—how they would push it up? Well, they have been kept busy doing this for the past several weeks.

This is written more to offset the impression that these maidens and Beau Brummels are untidy than anything else. Don't blame them, or the weather man, but lay it on old Jupe.

Why he's huddling over this year more than ever before is a deep mystery, but he is, for records show that it has rained more during June and July, 1915, than any other year in a decade.

FAMINE THREATENED THROUGHOUT MEXICO

Washington, July 9.—Officials of the United States were discussing informally today the possibility of President Wilson taking further steps to bring about a restoration of peace in Mexico. This discussion was based upon reports from the United States consuls in the northern part that decisive action to bring peace to the southern republic be taken within a month.

The consuls refer to the threat of famine in Mexico, inability of the heads of the warring factions to bring peace and predict that if prompt action is not taken by the United States conditions far worse than ever will prevail. As a solution of Mexico's internal troubles it is urged that recognition be accorded some element that it may establish a strong government.

Chicago, July 9.—"Armed peace," Dr. McDonald said, "that fallacy at last has had its day." Dr. McDonald, editor of the Toronto, Canada, Globe, told delegates attending the Christian Endeavor convention today in an address on "Christianity, the War and the Social Problem." Not again in this century, nor even again in this century, shall the world deceive itself with the self contradiction called "armed peace," Dr. McDonald said, "that fallacy at last has had its day." Dr. McDonald appealed for a world endeavor to make dominant in world policies the undisputed socialism of Jesus, as a means of preventing wars. Early hours of the convention today were given over to sectional and divisional meetings and denominational meetings were held in the afternoon.

Vienne, (Via London) July 9.—Formal apology has been made by the Austria-Hungarian government to United States Ambassador Frederick C. Penfield, because of an abusive article printed in the Neues Wiener Tagblatt, attacking President Wilson and the people in connection with the second note protesting against German methods of submarine warfare. As a rigid censorship is exercised over Austrian papers, Ambassador Penfield had informally asked the foreign office if the article represented the opinion of the Austrian government. The result was an apology and a sharp reprimand for the official censor.

POLITICAL SENSATION STIRS ALL ENGLAND

London, July 9.—The official announcement made by David Lloyd-George, the minister of munitions, on July 7, regarding the ex-Lord Chancellor and secretary of war and the question of supply of war munitions, has started a political sensation in the United Kingdom of the first order, and is being made the most of by the Northcliffe press to prevent what is declared to be an intrigue to get Lord Haldane back into the cabinet.

Premier Asquith's remarkable tribute to Viscount Haldane, which was read at a meeting of the National Liberal Club July 5, was regarded as paving the way for some attempt of this kind, and although most people take the view that it is inadvisable during the progress of the war to have these personal questions thrust out publicly a small body of politicians is trying to force a parliamentary discussion.

Sir Henry Dalziel, Liberal member for Kirkcaldy Burghs, has given notice that he will ask Premier Asquith in the House of Commons on Monday whether Lord Haldane's disclosures of the proceedings of a confidential committee of the cabinet were made with the premier's authority and it seems as though the government will hardly be able to avoid a public discussion. Premier Asquith will be asked to grant one day for a full discussion of the cases reported for the deficiency of munition. So far Lord Haldane has kept a complete silence regarding the controversy. The Northcliffe Press publishes an application in which it urges its readers to sign and send to the government, protesting against the readmission of Viscount Haldane to the cabinet. The Daily Mail this morning started a campaign in favor of forming what it calls a "people's committee" composed of business men of high reputation who never have been connected with parliament or party journalism, with powers to call for evidence and report to parliament as to "what servants of the state, by whose negligence or incompetence the fate of the empire has been endangered, are still holding office under the government." The Daily Chronicle says, "In some quarters it is rumored that it Major General Stanley B. Von Donop, master general of ordnance, does not resign David Lloyd-George will, and that if Major General Von Donop does, Field Marshal Lord Kitchener also will go."

The Daily News declares that more than 200 Liberal members of parliament have signed a tribute to Lord Haldane for his past services, which will be presented to him next week.

The secret history of the Quondam munitions committee is obviously not the proper subject for a controversy. It is a matter worthy of note, however, that the chairman of the committee was neither Lord Haldane nor Mr. Lloyd-George, but was Lord Kitchener.

Douglas, Ariz., July 9.—Word of threats made by Alfred Duarte, a leader of Mexican bandits, to kill all foreigners that cross the international boundary line into Mexico after today, was brought here by Ralph A. Duarte, according to Sims, said that while he was a prisoner at Fort Bliss and Wingate, he had been badly treated by the United States troops and he intended to revenge himself by killing all foreigners who entered Mexico after July.

Give Up Hope For Agricultural Vote

Columbus, July 8.—Advocates of a referendum on the Smith-Mallow agricultural bill, which would substitute a board of 10 for the present Youngstown, Renick W. Dinsley, of commission were about ready to admit that the chances of a referendum were about gone.

The 90 day referendum period will expire July 21, a week from next Wednesday, and 68,000 signatures would have to be obtained on referendum petitions by that time in order to call that measure to a popular vote in November.

It became known today that Governor Willis has concluded that there will be no referendum on the agricultural bill, and is considering the appointment of the 10 members of the new board of agriculture. There are about 50 applicants, most of them farmers, for the position only expenses while attending board meetings will be paid.

A hot contest already has started for the position of executive secretary of the board, the salary of which is $1,000. W. W. Watson, of Youngstown, Renick W. Dinsley, of Kingston, and Charles Meloy, manager of the state farms under the board of administration, are mentioned most prominently as seekers for that place.

S. E. Strode, agricultural commissioner in charge of the dairy and food division, who will be legislated out of office by the new law, declared today he saw no chances of a referendum on the Smith-Mallow bill.

Charles L. Swain, former speaker, who was to have taken charge of the referendum campaign, was prevented from assuming active management by two deaths in his family. Mr. Strode explained.

THE BLITHESOME MR. BLYTHE.

Samuel G. Blythe is the most pungent writer of the day, take him all around the most capable journalist since Raymond, Dana and that class of editors passed away. He can sound a hollowness deeper, puncture a bubble quicker and mock to scorn a sham quicker than any other living mortal. Influenced by no reading, overborne with neither precedent, nor opinion to which all make intellectual kowtow, seeing with his own eyes and measuring of his own knowledge and mind, he is independent and dependable. Therefore when he makes mockery of this Japanese phantom we believe full well he has resolved it into its mists of bluff and bawcombe.

Making a long visit to the kingdom of the Mikado, studying people and its resources at first hand, he reaches the cold conclusion that the most ardent, specious speechever evolved is the menace to this country of a Japanese invasion. Such a thing is not only impossible, it is an utter absurdity. The nation is as powerful today as it promises to be in centuries to come, and yet it has no navy of superior consequence and no means out of which it could build and equip one with the necessary complement of armament and armies to make it a thing to be feared by the richest and most powerful government in all the potentialities that go to make for fighting strength.

It is the wit of the Jap, and that alone to which he ascribes the impression it has made in some minds that it is a menace to be reckoned with. In cunning in putting the best foot forward, he sees no other nation equal to these same Japanese. They seize immediate hold on the distinguished and important visitor, show him only the things they wish to be seen and lead him their own highly colored optics to see through. His impressions are made ready to hand for him and those which he carries away are a matter of course.

From this policy, and it alone, comes the somewhat world wide assumption as to the marvelous power and resources of the nation, so he finds. The spirit of the nation is pretense and unreality, deception of themselves as well as others. His visit and his clear analytical presentation of actual conditions of the country are nothing short of a blessing.

CLEAR UP THE WAY.

A court of good repute decided quite recently that a traveler afoot had as much right upon the highway as he that drove.

In a general way this conclusion is fair and equitable enough in principle, but it does not seem to be altogether sound in common application. Out on the highway, where there is no other beaten course, it is reasonable that he who walks should have equal rights and division with him who rides, but this scarcely fits the situation in the city. In the latter there are distinct provision for foot and wheel wayfarers; the vehicle has no right at all to trespass upon that portion of the thoroughfare reserved specially for footmen, and to a certain extent the vehicle should have the right of way upon that other part outside of which it is provided it shall not travel. It would be arbitrary and unjust to carry this right so far as to exclude entirely those afoot, but they should be closely restricted thereupon. Owing to the wretched condition of the sidewalks over the city generally, it has become quite the habit to use the streets freely and it is a most common practice for pedestrians to cross the street at any place where idiosyncrasy or "a short cut" suggests, without the remotest thought that interferences are along the proper place to make a crossing. So general, in fact, is this practice of using and abusing the streets, that it makes all the more evident that the Peerless is the luckiest city in the world to live. On the law of applied averages, when we figure the careless, reckless and indiscriminate operation of automobiles, a peril tenfold increased by narrow streets and short corners, some one should be run down every hour and one or more killed every day, but, strange of all, we do not recall one single fatality for all the years that have come and gone since the advent of the automobile.

Still, bearing in mind particularly the matter of the local situation, it is as certain as fate itself that the law of averages holds good, and we are possessed with a haunting fear that some time there will come a horrible run of accidents, unless some precautions are timely taken that will improve present conditions.

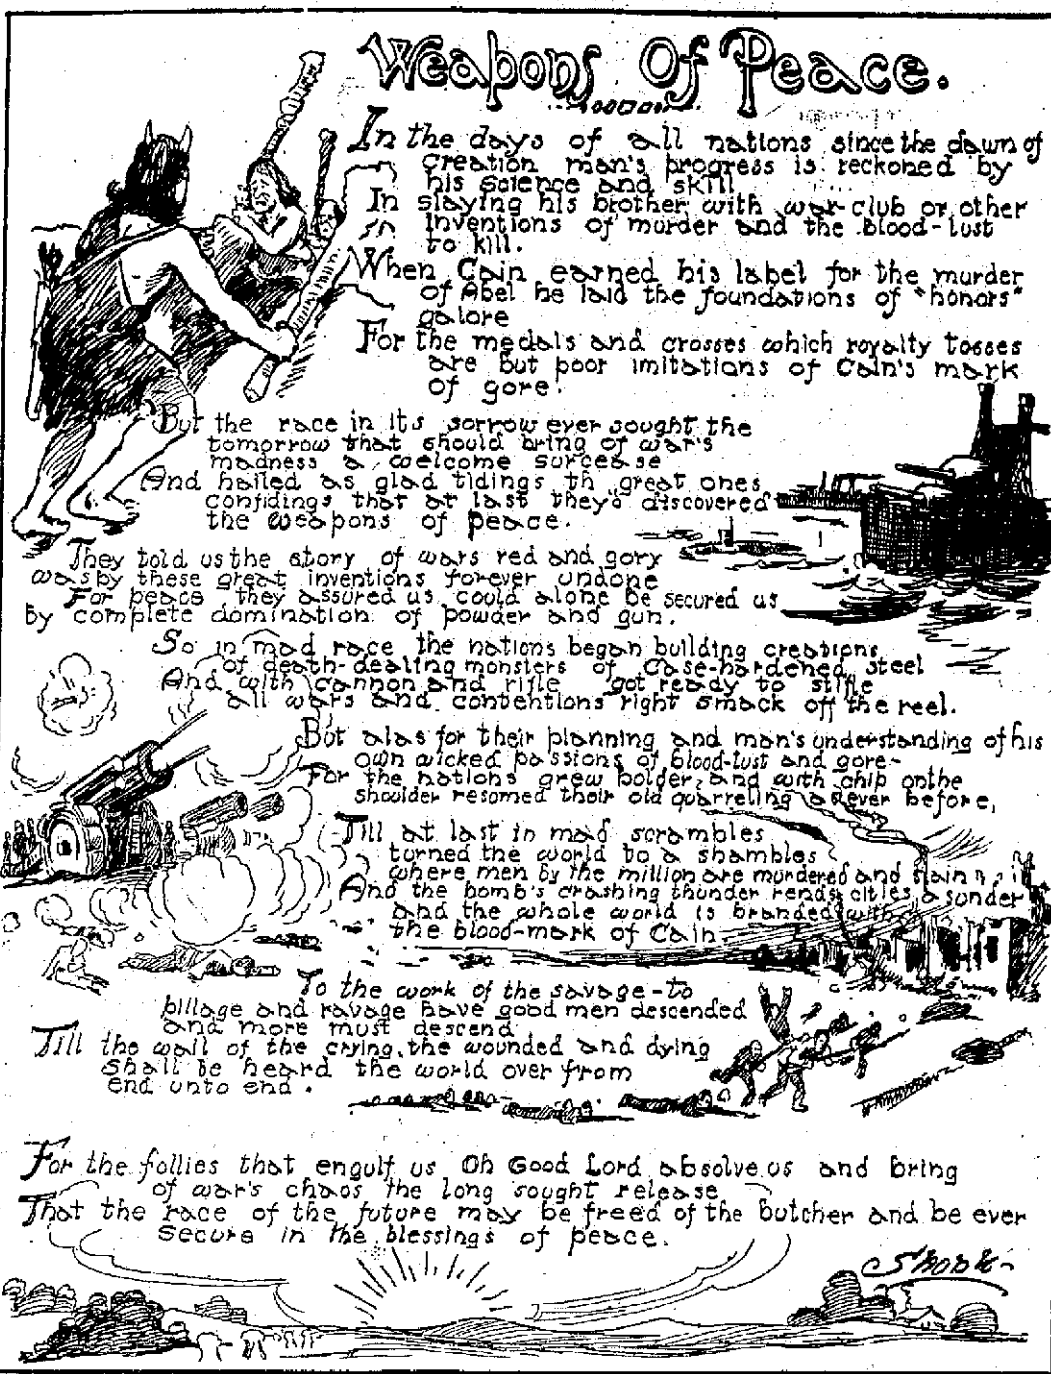

"I've come around," said the young man who works for the Kansas City Times, "to ask for the hand of your daughter in marriage." "Has she accepted you?" roared Rumbells. "Yes." "Then what the devil are you coming to me for with your troubles?"

Though neither waxing, nor particularly waning summer is here and as yet keeping our ear to the ground, we hear no whisper that the N. & W. is to build that new station—next year.

With 164 more officers turned out from West Point and Annapolis, it's nonsense to talk about further putting the country on a war footing.

The backbone of the complaints is built of the fact that your Uncle Sam refuses to do the fighting for any of the belligerents.

If the war ends within a year, something will have to break not only suddenly, but mighty wide apart.

The telegraph told us eighteen thousand people crowded into Madison Square Garden recently to hear Bryan speak; the Fatherland says at that same time one hundred thousand, immediately on hearing Bryan then and there adopted resolutions to the effect that these United States should not sell munitions to the belligerents. That indicates that, well, that some of Bryan's ancient enemies are seeing not double, but sextuple.

The mocking Maroon Star makes this challenge: As an evidence of good faith, some of the pacifist papers might reproduce some of the editorials along pacifist lines which they ran at the time of the sinking of the Maine, and immediately thereafter. But they won't do it. "There's a reason."

According to a Boston paper the Colonel has broken the silence of Oyster Bay to explain that the Moose, who have proclaimed for Wilson and peace are no kin whatsoever to the Bull Moose that is now a figment of the aforesaid Colonel's imagination.

A western paper predicts Colonel Bryan and Colonel Roosevelt will be rival candidates for the prohibition presidential nomination. In that case how can there be such a thing as the survival of the fittest?

It can't be possible that Uncle Sam is holding old Vic Huerta for another Mexican rebellion after the present half dozen have worn themselves out.

The chivalrous Memphis Commercial-Appeal avows that a woman can, at least, sharpen a lead pencil as gracefully as a man can thread a needle.

According to a press report our famous flood wall is built exactly like the Romans built 'em several centuries ago. Several centuries is good.

Deny it not, Richd here in the Peerless we have a genuine case of the officer seeking the man, with the man doing his best to hide himself.

The scoffer might see in the present wet spell a controverting of that story about what followed upon a rain of forty days and forty nights.

Council is bent on taking in all the territory possible with the flood wall. That is one bent that would be the worse for straightening out.

They are all catching the grab fever. New Boston and Sciotoville are both claiming more than all the territory in sight.

If that law of averages does work out, just think what blistering days remain for the balance of the summer.

There is one thing in which the Cincinnati Reds never disappoint us, keeping up a winning streak.

Really, it does seem as though the blow out of Wednesday night ought to settle it—the weather.

Another postponement of that flood wall matter!

Sketches of Little OLD NEW YORK
By C. H. H. 1915

New York, July 9.—In his earlier years James B. Regan, who owns the Knickerbocker Hotel, has only recently returned from a trip to California, where he went for inspiration and rest. He learned that his most famous poem "Slambango and Brazene" still follows him about. Everywhere he visited he was asked either to recite or to furnish copy of the poem. Incidentally the poem was written with greater haste than any poem he ever wrote.

Regan saw that the load was made up and said to the negro driver: "Jackson, I want you to take that stone over to Mr. Rock." The negro scratched his head perplexedly and timidly inquired if Regan would write it down. He did and the negro got up on the seat, looked at it several times and then broke out in a loud guffaw.

"Stone to Mr. Rock," he chortled, "stone to Mr. Rock."

"What are you laughing at?" inquired Regan impatiently.

"I've just laffin, boss, at this rhyme."

New York newspaper readers always did seem to like that Western story, recently sent from Dodge City, Kan., of the clergyman lost three days in the wheat field. Col. Lindsay, the veteran telegraph editor of Park Row, says that while he too always liked the story very much it lacks the ingenuity of the tale of the little girl who was sent to her father with a basket luncheon and got lost because, between morning and noon, the corn shot up and shut off her sight of all landmarks. Still the wheat story is a good old tale and always welcome.

Edna Mayo, the film actress, believes she has discovered the height of premonition. Upon looking for her thermos bottle the other day she discovered that the maid had put it in the ice box.

Horatio Winslow, who formerly edited Puck and is now one of the chief contributors to the Masses, the Socialist publication, has only recently returned from a trip to California, where he went for inspiration and rest. He learned that his most famous poem "Slambango and Brazene" still follows him about. Everywhere he visited he was asked either to recite or to furnish copy of the poem. Incidentally the poem was written with greater haste than any poem he ever wrote.

It was dashed off in 1905 after he and Mrs. Winslow had returned from a summer park vaudeville show. The first verse runs:

Oh strolling in the garden
There generally can be seen
The well known sketch and comedy team
Slambango and Brazene.

Black Diamond, the shaggy king of the Central Park buffalo herd, whose head adorns certain $10 bills and five cent pieces, could not be sold even for a Buffalo nickel the other day. The big bison has been in Central Park for 18 years and is now getting too old. At the public auction no bidder could be found, especially after it was learned that the animal had to be removed immediately after the sale.

Sir Forbes Robertson, just having completed his farewell tour of America and sailed for England, announces immediately upon landing that he has decided to return again next season. He is stealing divine Sarah's stuff!

The Lambs gave a gambol for the prisoners at Sing Sing the other week. Wilton Lackaye in apologizing to the prisoners for the failure of William Courtleigh, said: "He had no fear of coming here tonight but he was a little apprehensive about his departure."

Some Pills, These
An up state paper received the following Japanese ad for pills: Invaluable, most fragrant and nice pills, especially for sudden illness. For refreshing drooping minds and regulating disordered spirits, whooping cough and helping convalescents to progress.

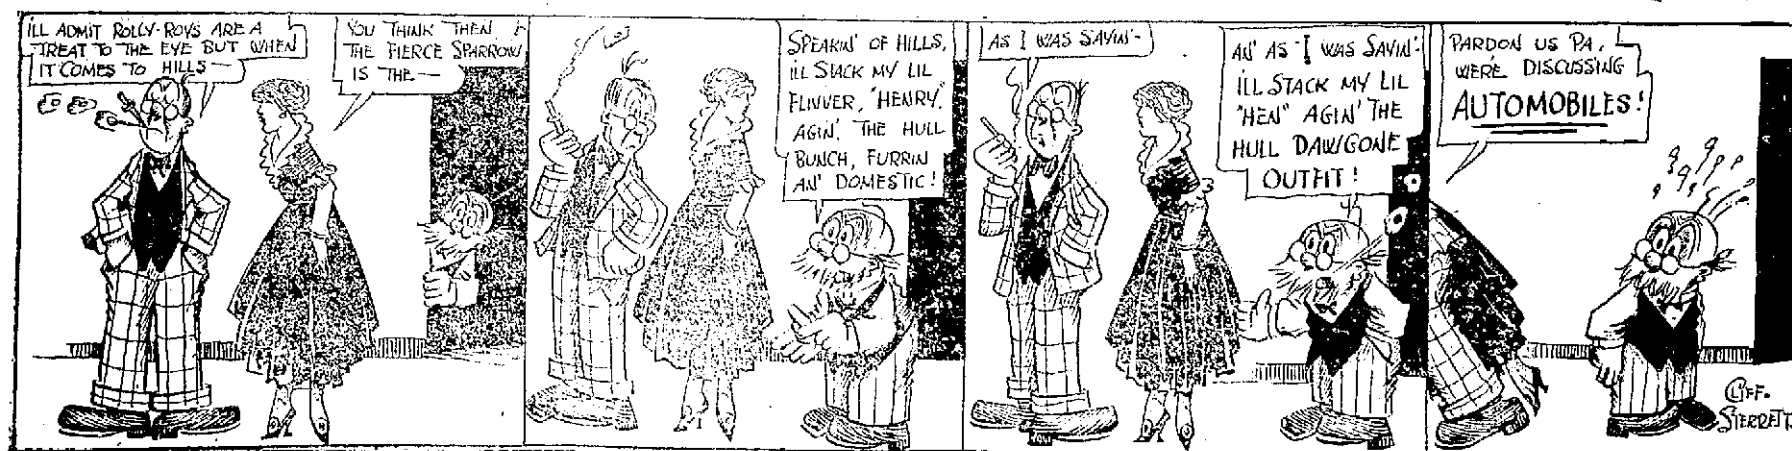

War News
"Well, I see the Russian army is still intact," remarked the loquacious man on the street car. "Guess the Germans don't want that place. Too easy to pronounce," said the grouch next to him.

Practice This In Your Sleep
Some person with plenty of leisure, and possibly fearful of consequences—therefore, unnamed—has given this weighty contribution to the literature of the day: A typewriter is one who typewrites on the typewriter and the typewriter is a machine on which the typewriter who typewrites on the typewriter typewrites. Now, the typewriter who typewrites on the typewriter until there is no more typewriting to be typewritten by the typewriter on the typewriter on which the typewriter who typewrites on the typewriter typewrites.

Artificial Ice
"I'm sorry the cream is sour," said young Mrs. Torkins, of the Washington Star. "Everything in the refrigerator seems to be spoiled," commented her husband. "It's the ice man's fault. He will bring around artificial ice, and I can't tell it from the genuine."

Some Preacher
A correspondent of the New York Sun quotes a remarkable tribute of a negro preacher to a white preacher who had consented to occupy the black brother's pulpit one Sunday. He said: "This noted divine is one of the greatest men of de age. He knows de unknowable, he kin go de undouble, an' he kin onscrow de onscrutable."

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, July 9.—War specialties were the feature of today's strong opening with gains of one to three points. Representative railways also recovered from yesterday's heaviness, Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Reading gaining one and one-half points with more moderate advances in copper and obscure industrials. U. S. Steel rose half a point on fair demand. Offsetting features included Missouri Pacific, Missouri, Kansas and Texas and Southern Railway preferred which descended to new low prices. Trading was broad and fairly active.

A sharp reversal occurred before the end of the first hour under lead of New Haven which broke steadily at 55 1/2, a loss of 3 points. Reading and Union Pacific also developed heaviness and other active stocks fell under yesterday's lowest prices. There was also a recurrence of weakness in secondary railways with a new low price for St. Paul, U. S. Steel and strongest of the speculative favorites but even in that stock signs of selling were observed on every advance. American Coal Product was prominent among the high priced specialties with a gain of 11 points. Further persistent selling for Europe was the feature of the bond list.

New York Central, Lehigh Valley and Amalgamated Copper developed sudden weakness in the last hour and helped to lower prices in general to lower levels. The closing was heavy.

Further foreign selling especially of bonds and weakness in the railway division characterized today's trading.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, weas, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60.

rub is also beneficial.

Dear Miss Wise.—Who could I write to at Washington about obtaining a patent on a certain article?

Write to Thomas Ewing, commissioner of patents, interior department, Washington, D. C.

Dear Miss Wise.—Can you suggest a remedy for nervousness? I have doctored and taken medicine until I am sick of it and it didn't do me a bit of good. I can't sleep at night, although I have a fairly good appetite.

NERVOUS WRECK. I know of nothing better for the toning of the nerves and the distribution of the nerve force than scientific physical exercises directed to the nerve centers and the spinal column, regulating the flow of nerve force and their rhythmic movement by deep breathing exercises which also regulate and strengthen the heart action.

Daily exercises, plenty of good, nourishing food, rest and a proper amount of sleep should correct the nervousness which troubles you. Watch your thoughts; see that they dwell upon love, kindness and helpfulness, or they will keep your nerves too strenuous for sleep.

Dear Dolly.—I have such large pores in my face. Do you know of anything that will reduce them?

MARGUERITE. For enlarged pores, use camphor water, which has the advantage of being very inexpensive. A good wash consists of 1-4 ounce of borax, 1 pint of camphor water, and 1-2 ounce of glycerine.

Dear Dolly.—I am a married woman with three children. Within the last year my husband has been promoted in his position, and it has made my whole life unhappy. He used to be happy in the home with the children, but now seems to take no interest in me or the children. It seems that all he thinks of is having a good time, and dressing. I have never fussed at him because he was a good husband before he was so successful in his business. He keeps insisting that I get out with him, but I think a woman with three children has no business seeking feverish amusements, and do not go. It seems to me the only thing to do is to take my children and go home to my parents, as they are well able to take care of us. What do you think of it?

YOUNG WIFE. Perhaps I cannot get your viewpoint on your problem, but I am going to tell you what I should do if I were situated as you are. When men advance in their work, they are bound to evolve new social ideas, and if the wife is understanding, she will "grow" with him, just as much as he wants to go. Evidently he can afford to keep a maid, and see that you have a competent one who can take care of the children at night. Get just as good looking clothes as his salary permits, and take a live interest in your own looks. Keep up with the questions of the day, and that you may take part in any conversation. Try to become interested in your husband's work—it is natural for a man to confide his hopes and ambitions, and day-to-day struggles to someone, they are very human in that respect—and who should be the recipient of those confidences, if not the wife? Try to grow to meet the new conditions—don't get stultified and unwilling to accept what the years have to offer.

along with her husband. Of course, she has very distinct duties in connection with her children, but she also has a great duty toward her husband—she assumed the position of companion and "playmate" when she became his wife. So many women forget that in the presence of their household and material duties. I suggest that you meet your husband's wishes, and go

SOCIETY

Mrs. Forrest King was the hostess yesterday at a miscellaneous shower at her lovely country home, near Frost, Ky., as a pre-nuptial favor to Miss Pearl Loft. A little bower under which stood a tiny bride and groom, was the center-piece which graced the table, where a delicious chicken dinner was served to sixteen young ladies, special friends of the honored guest.

The bride-elect was told to follow a string wound about over the house, and when the end was reached, found the pretty and useful gifts, which were very much appreciated.

Mrs. Henry Bertram and the Misses Monaghan, who have been spending the past few days at Crichton's Inn, had as guests Thursday Misses Alma Heinisch, Kate and Willa Molster and Clara Simpson.

Mrs. Fred Warner has returned home after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Will Reif, of Wheelersburg.

Mrs. M. F. Mackey and daughter, Miss Marjorie, have returned after a pleasant week's trip on the Ohio river, going to Charleston, W. Va., and then to Cincinnati and return.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Campbell, of Huntington, have returned home after spending the past few days with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Chisholm, of Fifth street.

For the pleasure of her guests, Mrs. Melvin Rothwell and daughters, Louise, Christine and June, Miss Louise Dinsmore entertained with a picnic party at Millbrook park this afternoon. Those composing the party were: Misses Dorothy Campbell and Margaret Hayes, of Ironton, guests of Dr. F. H. Williams. Stella McCall, Marguerite Dawson, Henrietta Dargatz, Dorothy Dowling, Helen Dowling and Elizabeth Doherty.

Mrs. M. E. Mackey and sister, Mrs. M. F. Mackey, of Wheelersburg, were here to attend the Chautauque Monday.

Thomas Williams, Lowell Salyer, Howard Hudson and Orville Sprague are spending this week at the Williams cottage, on Rosemount Road.

Mrs. Jessie M. Bolles will return home this evening after a delightful week's outing at the famous Adams County Mineral Springs.

Mrs. Henry T. Bauman and Miss

ONLY SIXTEEN, GIRL VERY SICK Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better."

—MISS AMELIA JAQUILLARD, 261 Talbott St., New Orleans, La.

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because I was troubled with suppression and had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked like a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."

—MISS ESTHER MAGUIRE, 110 Thwing St., St. Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Elizabeth Bauman, Annabel Hitchcock, Edna Haucek and Alice Vincent will return home this evening, after having spent ten days at Mineral Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Brightwell, of Wheelersburg, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Otto Haffner, of Portsmouth, at dinner Thursday. Mr. Brightwell, who is the signal maintainer at Wheelersburg, is enjoying his fifteen days' vacation.

Mrs. Charles Grady and niece, Margaret Monk, have returned home after a two weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Adam Gleim, of Wheelersburg, who entertained twenty-five other guests over the fourth.

Mrs. Wm. Ruymann has returned home from Athens, where she went to attend the wedding of Miss Gladys Williams and Mr. Charles Khuen, which took place last Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Khuen were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ryan yesterday, when they were entertained with dinner at six-thirty. They left this morning for Chattanooga, Tenn., where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heremann, of Cincinnati, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Kritzer, their father and mother, of Carey's Run.

Miss Grace Barney, of Cincinnati, formerly of Portsmouth, is visiting her grandmother and grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. John Kritzer, of Carey's Run.

DON'T USE SOAP ON YOUR HAIR

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain multifid coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

CONTRACT FOR LAWSON RUN VIADUCT AWARDED

Project Means Much To The City; Work To Begin At Once

The contract for constructing the Lawson Run viaduct from Young to Eighth street, was awarded by the city board of control Friday morning to L. E. Sturm, of Columbus, formerly of Waverly, at his bid of $120,000.

By the terms of his own bid Mr. Sturm must complete the structure by December 31, 1915. He was at once notified by C. F. Losh, division engineer of the N. & W. railway, which company will strain a point to get cars for the contractor immediately so that equipment may be rushed to this city with all possible haste and the work started and well under way within the next week or ten days.

Mayor Frick, previous to placing the matter to a vote, emphasized his demand that the city not be called upon to pay its share of the cost, according to $42,000, until the completion of the viaduct, because of the revenue it is deriving from the fact that the bonds are drawing interest. Then, too, the progress of the work is expected to awaken approval of the project in the public mind.

Mr. Sturm's figures, according to City Solicitor Stanley McCall, represented the lowest legitimate bid, accompanied as it was with a certificate. W. F. Nugent, of Louisville, Ky., submitted a bid of $119,000, but did not meet all legal requirements. The bid of Pitts & Harris, of Roanoke, Va., was $118,500. Mr. Losh, besides recommending the acceptance of the Sturm bid, stating that while Mr. Sturm was a splendid contractor and was strong financially, he was not experienced in this particular kind of work and lacked the necessary equipment. His previous work for the N. & W. was confined to the laying of tunnels.

Mr. Sturm, said Mr. Losh, was not to sign the contract and would have his equipment on the way to Portsmouth before the contract was prepared and ready for his signature, so as to take advantage of good weather.

The viaduct will be constructed of reinforced concrete. The viaduct proper will be 265 ft. long, the Gallia street approach 265 ft. and the North street approach 200 ft., or a total length of 730 ft. It will be 45 ft. wide with a 6 ft. sidewalk, or

ARRESTED FOR CRIME COMMITTED IN 1868

Bedford, Iowa, July 9.—Further developments in the case that has come to be known as "the mystery of the murdered cattleman and his son, or the $90,000 buried treasure" came today with the arrest of James and John Bainwood, brothers. The story of the murder of the unknown wealthy cattleman and his son back in 1868 came to light yesterday with the arrest here of Bates Huntsman, 70, member of a family prominent in this section, and Henry Scribner, a well to do cattleman. Scribner was charged with being an accomplice of Huntsman, who, in addition to being charged with the murder, faces the allegation that he was connected with a notorious counterfeiting gang that operated in Iowa in the years immediately following the war. The Bainwood brothers, both nearly 60 years old, were placed in jail in Clarinda, Iowa, this morning and were to be brought here today. They, like Huntsman and Scribner, were arrested on warrants issued by the state's attorney general's office.

Samuel Anderson, whose contemplated civil suit against Huntsman to obtain a fourth of the $90,000 treasure said to have been buried on a farm near Siam, Iowa, brought about the investigation by the attorney general, today denied the report of yesterday that the chest had been dug up twelve years ago.

According to Anderson's story today the counterfeiting gang after killing the cattleman and his son, buried the chest with the intention of digging it up again after the excitement over the murders had died away. Anderson, who in the meantime had come into possession of the farm on which the treasure was buried, was asked twelve years ago to make a search for the treasure, the plan of the gang fixing its location having been lost.

Anderson, while digging for the treasure was stopped by his employers and a quarrel ensued. The employers took charge of the work and refused to make any deal with Anderson for a division of the money which as yet has never been located. It was after this that Anderson took the case to an attorney.

Maria Collins, the one witness to the murder of the cattleman and his son, who at the time was a little girl, is said to live near Hickman, Mo. She is the one who is said to have told Jesse Huntman and Frank James, the notorious outlaws about the treasure, with the result, it is said, that Frank James made several visits to this part of the country in the years following 1868.

Declares Juror In Lawson Conviction Was Intimidated

Trinidad, Colo., July 9.—Charges that the verdict by which John R. Lawson, International Executive Board member of the United Mine Workers of America, was convicted of first degree murder, was secured through intimidation and jury tampering by a court bailiff, were aired in the district court here today in the arguments on Lawson's motion for a new trial. The arguments were before Judge Granby Hillier, who presided in the Lawson case. A motion to prohibit Judge Hillier from hearing several additional strike cases is pending in the Colorado supreme court.

Lawson was convicted May 3, of first degree murder in connection with the killing of John Nimmo, a deputy sheriff, in a battle near Ludlow, Colorado, between deputies and striking coal miners.

The motion for a new trial, filed by Lawson's attorney, was accompanied by an affidavit signed by Grover Hall, a member of the jury which convicted the labor leader. In it Hall declares he believes Lawson innocent. He swears that during the more than forty hours of jury deliberation he was repeatedly told by Frank Gooden, the bailiff in charge of the jury, that his wife was dangerously ill.

The affidavit makes the further charge that on May 3 the jury was not taken to luncheon at the usual hour and that Gooden informed Hall that Judge Hillier had ordered jurors to be locked in a room and given no food until they had agreed upon a verdict. Finally Hall declares he agreed to vote for a verdict which he believed was contrary to the evidence.

An affidavit by Bert Drandlett, who served as bailiff in the murder trial of Louis Zancanelli, preceding the Lawson trial, stated that Gooden had boasted to him that he had "brought pressure the bear upon Grover Hall." Beeta Hall, wife of Grover Hall, in an affidavit offered when the hearing opened, swore that during the Lawson trial she had a cold. The affidavit charges that on the evening of May 2, "one Zec Martin was in the house of the affiant and insisted that affiant should have a doctor; that Martin finally called a physician, who said Mrs. Hall was not seriously ill. Zec Martin at the time was under-sheriff. Other affidavits submitted are from men alleged to have participated as mine guards in the battle in which Nimmo was killed and purport to indicate that Nimmo was struck by a bullet fired by one of the guards, not by strikers.

the British.

The area is 322,450 square miles. The population is 79,556, chiefly Hottentots and Bushmen. The European population in 1913 was 14,815, of whom 12,292 were Germans. The military force, including police is given in the latest reports as 2,992.

London, July 9.—The surrender of the entire German force in German Southwest Africa closes one of the most important campaigns of the great war and releases for service elsewhere the South African contingent.

The campaign against the most important German African colony was considered so vital that all the resources of the South African Union were used in it, but its successful conclusion probably means that despite the fact that German East Africa remains unconquered a contingent will be dispatched to France while additional forces will continue the campaign in East Africa.

The final disposition of German Southwest Africa has not been officially announced but it generally is believed here that it will become a part of the South African Union. History is repeating itself near Lublin, in Southern Russian Poland where last September the Austro-Hungarians experienced a severe check in their attempt against Warsaw. Special dispatches from Petrograd report that the Russian position now is very hopeful and that the possibility of the Austro-Germans carrying Warsaw by sudden onslaught is obviated. It is explained by Russian commentators that the Austro-German forces now are operating into a country which frequent campaigns have turned into a desert and where the problems of transport and commissariat are infinitely more complex than they were in the Galician operations.

The Austrians reverse is explained by London military experts as due to the ardor of Archduke Ferdinand's army, which, in the rush on the Krasnik-Lublin line, got so far ahead of Field Marshal Von Mackensen's forces that a junction was impossible and that the Russians on being reinforced threw themselves on their pursuers.

The only success claimed by the central powers along the eastern front is in southern Poland, west of the Vistula river, where the Russians are presumably withdrawing towards new lines around Warsaw.

GERMAN REPLY IS UNSATISFACTORY

States was at hand. One course, which some well informed officials considered probable, would be to reject the German proposals and notify the Berlin government, in effect, that the United States intended to insist on the principle of visit and search for all unarmed vessels of any nationality carrying Americans and that a specific violation of those rights would determine the next step in the American policy.

As for the Lusitania case, however, failure by Germany to admit liability for the loss of more than 100 American lives is a phase of the situation on which there were today few suggestions as to what the United States should do.

"SHOULD OUR DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS?"

Some of the president's advisers have repeatedly counselled that the breach of international law was so flagrant that it remained only for the United States to have no diplomatic intercourse with the German government unless the intent of the act was denied and reparation was promised. The negotiations over the conduct of German submarines have overshadowed the Lusitania case itself, but there were indications today that the new German note would cause a return to the Lusitania case as a foremost issue.

The fact that the German reply was not modified from the form in which it was submitted to the American ambassador a few days ago was responsible for the feeling of pessimism because it is known that the proposals originally sent are not satisfactory to officials here. There is a disposition, however, to await the arrival of the text of the note itself so that the exact phraseology of the communication may be taken into consideration.

GERARD GIVES OUTLINE

Ambassador Gerard's dispatches containing the outline of the note and even some of the excerpts in it were somewhat garbled in transmission and it is not altogether certain that all the points made by Germany are clearly understood as yet. Of the chief questions at issue, however, is that the German government, according to officials of the United States, is not ready to concede Americans the right to travel anywhere on the high seas on unarmed merchant ships as contended for in the last American note. Germany has suggested that Americans may travel on beligerent ships if there is a guarantee in advance that they carry no munitions of war and are unarmed, and the vessels are marked in such a way as to be distinguishable in the war zone to German submarines, and if there is notification of the departure and character of the ships.

Reports continue to reach here in front of Sanchez. The official press bureau has finally released the statement that it was a British submarine which sank a German battleship in the Baltic. This belated confirmation coming five days after the news of the identity of the attacking craft had been published in the continental newspapers was almost buried in the English press. Portions of which, however, today makes sarcastic editorial comments as to the methods of British censorship.

Prominent Shippers Arrested By U. S.

San Francisco, July 9.—Phillip R. Thayer, president of the Northern and Southern Steamship company, and Joseph Bley, R. H. Swaine and J. S. Hoyt, shipping brokers, were arrested today on indictments returned by the federal grand jury yesterday charging violation of American neutrality in connection with the transfer of supplies to German warships by the steamer Sacramento.

Mansfield, O., July 9.—Thomas Finch of Perryville and Don Wilson of Jeromeville were killed last night at Hayesville, near here, when an auto in which they and two others were riding turned turtle. Otto B. Leggett of Mansfield and Orlow Leverett of Jeromeville, the other two men in the car were injured. The car was wrecked.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE BUCKEYE CAPITAL

Columbus, July 9.—No referendum will be called on the Gallagher coal screen law by the United Mine Workers, the attorney general's department was notified formally today by the counsel for the miners' union. The reason assigned was the great expense necessary, both to secure necessary signatures on referendum petitions and to conduct an educational campaign in opposition to the Gallagher bill.

The attorney general's department was asked today to approve the form of a proposed constitutional amendment extending from two to four years the terms of all county officers, which will be initiated by a state organization of county officers for the November election. Judge George B. Okey, of Columbus, counsel for the organization, presented to form for the amendment and initiative petition. Attorney General Turner is expected to approve the form when he returns to the office Monday and petitions will be put in circulation immediately, it was announced.

The governor's office today honored a requisition from the governor of Illinois for the return of Adorjan Antal, alias Antal haps, charged with operating a confidence game in Kane county, Illinois. Antal tried to sell street cars to foreigners who had recently arrived in this country and were looking for work. It is charged. Antal is held in Cleveland.

George L. Coffinberry, temporary president of the new civil service employees' organization, announced today that a second state wide meeting would not be held for several weeks yet. Meanwhile no preparation will be made to assist in a referendum on the civil service law, he said. In political circles this announcement was taken to indicate that the doubt regarding the legality of civil service employees having a right to participate in a referendum campaign, had led leaders of the movement to postpone its further development until all possibility of a referendum on the civil service law had vanished.

Mrs. Frank Handgrove, of Findlay street, has as guest Miss Mabel Hambrick, of Rossmore, Va.

Reports from London recently have stated that the surrender of all the German forces was expected soon. British military experts have contended that General Botha has conducted a masterly campaign.

PORTSMOUTH MAN FIGHTS FOR LIFE IN RIVER

Was Writing A Letter When Storm Dumped Him Into The Water

Clarence O. Mitchell of 113 Jefferson street had a thrilling escape from having his name added to the death list of Wednesday night's storm in Cincinnati, and his five 39.4 foot motor boat, which he was about to enter in the Kentucky river trade, is almost a total wreck as a result of being caught in the storm.

When the tornado struck Cincinnati Mr. Mitchell's boat was in the Sedonsville harbor and he was busily engaged in writing a letter. Without warning his boat was up-ended and Mr. Mitchell was tossed out into the river. He succeeded in grabbing a life saver and held onto it until he climbed on a piece of a float that happened to pass him. It was owned by the Sedler Landing company of Sedonsville. When Mr. Mitchell finally reached shore after a most harrowing experience he was on the Kentucky shore of the river and quite a distance below where the wind capsized his boat on the Ohio side.

Mr. Mitchell after recovering from the shock returned to Sedonsville, where he succeeded in finding his water filled boat and had it safely anchored. He will go down to Cincinnati tomorrow morning to learn exactly what condition the boat is in.

In telling of the thrilling affair Mr. Mitchell said:

"When the storm came up and tossed me into the Ohio river I was swept under my motorboat. When I came up all was dark and the Ohio was a mass of white caps. As a piece of float passed me I grabbed hold of it and finally succeeded in getting on top of it. It was the wildest night I ever put in and would not care to experience it again. I had a good chance to watch the fury of the storm as it swept Cincinnati and it was certainly an awful storm and I shall not soon forget it," Mr. Mitchell said Friday.

Mr. Mitchell hopes to have the boat in shape so that it will be in running order in a short time. His mission to Cincinnati was to call on the custom officials to secure a permit to enter the craft in the Kentucky river. His boat was modernly equipped throughout and his loss is quite a serious one.

An entertainment at the Casino is down for 7:30 o'clock and will last about one hour and fifteen minutes. After the entertainment the platform will be cleared and will be at the disposal of the crowd, with music by the orchestra. Members are privileged to bring out of town guests, whether Masons or not. IRONTON NAILERS BLANKED SPENCERITES 2 TO 0

LOCAL PLAYERS UNABLE TO SOLVE MEYERS' DELIVERY

(From the Irontonian)

Too much Meyers. That is the portion that put the Portsmouth Cobblers to sleep on the hard, hard bed of defeat yesterday, the Nailers clubbing out a victory in the second inning, which was their only big frame, so far as scoring was concerned. In the second frame Gilmore started a safe and sane celebration by plugging a hit to center.

Henderson joined in the said celebration with a two-base crash to right and Jimmy Lavender proved to be the man of the hour, laying a lovely little hit just back of second base and giving Gilmore and Henderson oodles of time to score. Lavender went to second while the ball was being tossed about but died there when McDaniels was tossed out, Caton to Spencer. Meyers made the third out by whiffing, as Perry had previously been killed off for the first out, on an aerial propulsion to McDaniels.

Meyers had plenty of speed and good control in pinches and held the hard hitting Cobblers to two clean hits and one Zinzinnity base hit. Hancock, who graced the hillcock for the Cobs, had everything and pitched a splendid game and his support was of the very finest variety. Had it not been for the one big inning which the Nailers enjoyed the game would probably have run into extra innings. The Cobs threatened to score in the very first inning and again in the ninth, when they placed two men on the cushions with but one down.

This Meyers person made himself obnoxious to the Cobblers throughout the game, despite the fact that he and the other members of the Nailers team spent the storm that swept this section Wednesday night. The local athletes were a weary, sleepy gang but they pulled themselves together and won the game.

In the first inning Dilts was walked by Meyers and Dillhoefer sacrificed him, Henderson to Ollom. Sherrman was sure on Stadfield's mess of his case and right here the Nailers pulled themselves together and the old infield tightened up like a drum. Caton bounced to Meyers and was out at Henderson's station, and Spencer relieved the fans by rolling to Ollom and perishing at Henderson's quarters. Ollom, Stadfield and Gilbert all were thrown out at first in the opening round by Caton, Bush and Caton, respectively.

Meyers started the second inning badly also, hitting Bush on the arm with his smoke ball. McHenry was grounded an infield single, when Meyers threw to second to catch Bush. Chris sacrificed, Meyers to Henderson, but Hancock popped to McDaniels and Dilts was a "cripple," Ollom to Henderson.

The next inning we approach with much joy, and again of praise for our noble warriors for it was in this second inning that they enabled in the two runs that placed our gang on the winning end of the fray.

After this overall round the game saved back and forth with a few furious plays featuring the contest. Caton's glove handled slug of Sherrman's terrific out, directed at the left field wall compelled the meagre crowd of loyal fans to rise up on its haunches and shout the praises of our valiant left gardener, and this same Mr. Sherrman to gnash his teeth in rage.

That occurred in the eighth inning with one down and prevented any halting bees that the Cobblers might have been disposed to launch had they been given the proper encouragement. The catch by Caton was to repay Sherrman for an unforced catch by that individual, who handoffed a terrible line drive to center in the second from Mr. Caton's bat that would more than likely have been good for three fourths of the circuit, and possibly the other fourth would have been negotiated by our massive field captain.

Splendid catches by Ollom, Stadfield, Lavender and Caton were also glowing features of the session.

To the ninth the Cobblers bade fair to score a shut out runs but their foul purpose was frustrated very rudely. Spencer lofted to Perry for a starter in this round but Bush secured a walk. McHenry then poked to left and both runners advanced to third and second respectively when Ullrich went out Meyers to Henderson. Jacobus was sent into bat for Hancock and his smoking, shelling infield out. Stadfield in circus style and a toss to Henderson ended

BOOSTER DAY PLANS WILL BE ELABORATE

President William Gableman and Vice President William Zottmann put in a busy day Thursday distributing Booster Day tickets. They met with encouragement all along the line and the day is to be made a gala affair in local baseball circles.

Every loyal fan should assist the club in its efforts to sell 1,000 tickets for Booster Day. The tickets will be good for any game except on Labor Day. The committee will call on practically every fan in the city and through a systematic canvass except to sell the allotted number of tickets. It is to be made the biggest Booster Day in the history of the River City. While other towns are throwing up the sponge the Ohio State League towns are faithfully sticking to their guns and Portsmouth hopes to set the pace when it comes to closing a bad season on the right side of the ledger. Make arrangements to buy as many tickets as possible. You will keep your favorite game in the city, will help keep the league intact and give employment to a band of young ball players, who are working conscientiously in behalf of their respective teams.

Pitched Fine Game

"Hancock pitched a beautiful game at Ironton Thursday, one that would have been a winner nine times out of ten," said Manager Spencer last night. "Jacobus batted as pinch hitter in the ninth and hit one over second base, but the diamond was heavy and Stadfield made a great play on it. And there were runners on second and third," said Manager Spencer last night.

GOOD WAY TO FILL THEIR PARK

The Wards of the Brookfords, by throwing open the gates of their park and letting in everybody free, proved that there are nearly 10,000 people in the whole of Greater New York who will look at a Fed game once, at least, provided it doesn't cost anything, and good music and cabaret is furnished as a sort of equalizer. The Wards are said to be so well pleased at seeing a crowd in their park for once that they have determined to stage free days regularly from now on.

Pitchers Were Wild

Manager Spencer took a run down from Ironton Thursday to pay a short visit to his family. He says the team would have won every game at Charleston had it secured good pitching. "We played pretty good ball in Charleston, but our pitchers were wild," said the local manager last night.

MUST LIKE JUDGMENT OF FIELDER JONES SLAMMED OUT HOME RUN

A story told by a Federal league correspondent would indicate that Fielder Jones is looked upon by the other Fed managers as a sort of general playing adviser for the whole league. Several of the managers, it is stated, have been in conference with Jones for the purpose of having him outline to them wherein their tactics are at fault. Jones inspects their games, notes the weaknesses and then gives the expert advice. Whether they follow it or not, Jones goes out and beats them just the same. It's a peculiar situation, says one. Think of Connie Mack or John McGraw telling any other team manager how he might win from the Athletics or the Giants.

Diked in New "Unnies"

Federal league umpires have been decked out in summer uniforms of light gray, which will be all right until one of them gets in the way of some batter, who will then make an awful hole for that he couldn't see the ball for the background.

TOUGH ON WALTER

Walter Johnson hasn't won a game since he became a proud papa. He is probably worrying about supporting three people on such small wages.

Dell With Topeka

Topeka has refused to waive on Outfielder Johnny Dell when Denver sought to send him to Grand Rapids in the Central league so he was turned over to the Topeka club.

On Inspection Trip R. C. Wessell, division trainmaster of the B. & O. S. W., was here from Chillicothe on an inspection visit Thursday.

Ask my customers about my work, Brehmer, the Painter.

SOME SMOKE, LITTLE FIRE

(Sporting News) President Herrmann of the Reds denies that there is any deal on for the transfer of Herzog to the Cubs, and President Thomas of the Cubs comes back and says that despite all denials there is a "chance" for the transfer. All of which indicates that where there is so much smoke there must be some fire.

Jones To Stick

St. Louis, July 9.—Fielder Jones, suspended manager of the St. Louis Federal, announced today that he has reconsidered his resignation which he telegraphed to Phil Ball, principal owner of the club, after a dispute with Umpire Howell in the Kansas City game last Monday.

MINORS HAVE TROUBLES

Precept, Ill., July 9.—The refusal of the Haeck Club to play in a four-team circuit resulted today in the dissolution of the B-State League, organized a few months ago with five clubs in Illinois and one in Wisconsin. Two of the teams quit Monday. The Precept Association then received an offer from President Tarnsey of the Three-I League, by which Precept would take the place of Dubuque in the Three-I.

Pleasant As A Big Boil

It must be comforting to the veteran Jack Meyers to know that Manager McGraw is trying to get him off the payroll and that even Cincinnati will not have him.

Cards Need A Shortstop

The St. Louis Cardinals are looking ahead for a shortstop, the job that never has been filled since Arnold Hansen got religion so strong that he had to be sent to a sanitarium. The Cardinals have purchased Dick Thompson, who is now with the Denison team of the Western Association.

Daubert Leads

The latest averages of the National league players show that Jake Daubert is still the best hitter. He is hitting at .329 clip. Home Club is hitting .218 and is leading the Fed sweat artists. Killefer is second with .307.

Shovelin Is Going Fine

Johnny Shovelin is going like a house after with the Columbus Senators these days. With the bat he has been the biggest man on the line-up for the past week. Wednesday he lugged for three out of four including a double and a home run. The home run was the lowest made on the Kansas City park this season.

M'HENRY MADE SWELL CATCH

(Charleston Post) Melbury made a great catch out in left field Wednesday when he robbed Jake Daubert of a possible home run. Jake smote one full in the face and McHenry started on the run. He jumped into the air, lost his balance and fell, but still caught the ball.

ROWLAND MAKES WINNING TEAM BY SUBSTITUTING "WE" FOR "I"

(Chicago, July 9.—Want to know how it happens that the White Sox, a sixth place aggregation a year ago, now are pounding the American league trail at a pennant winning clip?

If you do, list to the explanation of Clarence (Buster) Rowland, the pilot from the bushes, who's likely to upset all the dejected precedents of former years and the moss-grown traditions of the diamond by leading a pennant winner his first year in the majors.

"We've eliminated the 'I's' on this club," says Clarence, whose splendid calm pulse hasn't been the least bit shaken by his success.

"Every one around this club says 'we' and no individual takes the credit for winning to himself. Lots of big league managers have 'I'd' themselves out of their jobs.

"Being a manager in the bushes is just about as hard as being a pilot in the majors. Up here the lot of a manager is easier in many ways than a bush league has it. The major league manager has better tools to work with.

"To win the pennant, this year, we've got to beat out only the Boston Red Sox. I've thought that from the start and my first impression is being verified.

"Every ball club should get out and play the best baseball it is capable of playing. The players owe that to the public which supports them in earning their livelihood, and it's pretty little to ask that man put forth his best efforts at a job which he works only about two hours a day.

"Don't give a manager so much credit for having a winning team. The players are the main factors. The manager does his little part, but no manager can be great without a great club.

"I'm satisfied with the club I have. The White Sox forms a happy harmonious ball club. We have the best pitching staff in the league, the best second basemen and the best catcher. We couldn't ask for much more.

"I wouldn't have a player who didn't work in well with the others and who set a bad example, regardless of how great a star he might be.

"How did Comiskey find me, you ask? Comiskey has known me ever since I was a shaver in knickerbockers. His wife hails from Dubuque, Ia., where I was manager and his son was born in Dubuque. Comiskey knows everything there is to be known about Rowland."

And this young man from the bushes seems fated to make good on the confidence Comiskey has reposed in him. His promotion hasn't turned his head.

New photograph of Clarence Rowland.

COLTS BEAT SENATORS, NICHOLSON IS YANKED

Lexington, July 9.—Nicholson allowed four hits and two runs in the first inning of Thursday's game and McMillough allowed one run in the remaining eight innings, enough to beat Charleston 3 to 0. Lingard, Lexington, pitched an invincible ball throughout the game. Nutter made a prize catch off Reed's bat in the eighth inning. The score:

HELP BOOST COMING BIG KORN KARNIVAL!

The Korn Karnival!

Where have you heard those magic words before?

Why right here in Portsmouth and it will be soon time to turn to things with a Korn Karnival flavor as the big event, which attracts thousands of visitors to the city will be held October 6, 7, 8 and 9.

Promoters of the Korn Karnival, the Retail Merchants Association will bend every energy to make this year's show even a greater success than last year's, which was almost the last word in Korn Karnivals.

On Monday night directors of the Retail Merchants Association will hold their monthly meeting and plans will be laid to boost the carnival for all it is worth from now on. The various committees are to meet semi-weekly and talk over matters that will benefit the carnival and will result in it being widely advertised at home and abroad. A campaign of publicity is to be started that will result in the old K. K. being heralded in all of the adjoining counties and throughout Southern and Central Ohio.

"We plan to do big things commencing with Monday night's meeting," said Arthur Bode, chairman of the premium committee Friday. "We realize that the time is drawing near and the heads of the various committees are going to get out and work their heads off to make the carnival even a greater success than last year."

Si Straus is chairman of the amusement committee, Capt. Jas. Smith chairman of the committee on manufacturers, Dick Richard heads the advertising committee, W. W. Anderson the parades, Ben Harris music and finance and Will H. Burt railroads.

Propositions to be taken up Monday night will be the various parades, the Two Mile Dinner feature, which with a little work could be made a big success, the Baby Parade, the Bill Parade, Masked Carnival in fact anything that will make for a larger and greater carnival.

Si Straus of the amusement committee has been keeping in touch with a number of worth while attractions and this end of the big show is to be well cared for. It is likely that the spectacular production "Fighting the Flames" will be secured as an extra added attraction.

In fact plans are being well laid to increase the interest in every attractive side of the carnival. The public is to be catered to in an amusement way, every effort will be made to have the exhibits surpass those of last year and the previous year and special attention will be paid to decorating the town for the gala affair.

Korn Karnival week in Portsmouth is to reach the highest point of excellence this year if energy, systematic methods and everlasting boosting will turn the trick.

Women Scrap

Lulu Holsinger-Hughes was fined $10 in police court Friday for assaulting Nellie Hoover.

The young women live on Mill street and had called each other all sorts of pet names. Mrs. Hughes' husband holding Mrs. Hoover while his wife slapped her, it is claimed. Lulu had no money with which to pay a fine and Chief McGarty, after court, permitted her to go home with a warning.

SWIFT RAPER HAS IDEAS ON PATRIOTISM

The following from the Chillicothe Gazette is of interest here as Mr. Swift Raper is a former well known Portsmouth citizen:

Mr. Swift Raper, of Columbus, is in the city, visiting relatives. Mr. Raper who is 85 years old, is a brother of the late Capt. John T. Raper, and a native of Chillicothe, but for many years has lived in Portsmouth, Columbus and other cities. He is a gentleman of the old school and a patriot. Mr. Raper very much deprecates what to him seems a lack of patriotic spirit in Chillicothe, and to the Gazette he said he was almost ashamed he was born or ever lived in Chillicothe, because no one made a patriotic address on the Fourth of July. He asked, "Are there no lawyers here who can make a speech?" When informed there were many of them, he retorted: "Well, I couldn't vote for one of them for any office; the whole pack don't seem to be worth a damn. In my time, we had a big crowd and a patriotic address. It made us better citizens and taught the young to think something of their country. Old Dick Douglas and Murphy were the prize orators, but there were many others, and they were always ready to pull off their coats and make a patriotic speech, but now it seems that the people don't really appreciate their country or take any interest in it."

Mr. Raper was in a reminiscent mood this morning, and rehearsed many affairs from the doings in Chillicothe in the 40's and 50's.

EAGLES BEGIN MOVING TO THEIR NEW HOME

Members of the Local Aerie of Eagles began moving Friday to their new building at Second and Court streets, which for years was known as the Elk building.

It was purchased sometime ago by the Eagles, who will meet in their present hall at Sixth and Chillicothe streets next Thursday night for the last time. The Elks, who are to give up their quarters will in the fall move into the upper floors of the Play House building, which will be remodeled for them.

ATTEMPT MADE TO STEAL AUTO

When Saloonkeeper John Kilcorne, of Eleventh and Lincoln streets, visited his garage early Friday morning, he discovered that an attempt had been made during the night to steal his automobile. The steeples of the door had been pulled and the car removed out of its place but the would-be robbers were unable to start its power. Mr. Kilcorne having the key of the electric starter in his pocket. He notified the police.

Place Big Orders For Machine Tools

Cleveland, Ohio, July 9.—The Iron Trade Review today says: "The first half of the year ended with very heavy specifications on contracts for shapes, plates, bars and other finished steel materials. In many cases requests of consumers to be allowed to specify in excess of contracts were declined by the manufacturers on account of the recent rapid increase in placing of orders, and also because of confidence in the future. Improvement in pig iron is still only moderate, but the volume of new business coming to the mills is very heavy."

Large orders for machine tools are being placed by companies engaged in the manufacture of munitions. Lathes are being ordered in large quantities for future

Nephew In Storm Zone

Mr. and Mrs. William Lawson, of Twelfth street, received word from Cincinnati, Thursday evening, that the tornado which swept the Queen City Wednesday night, unroofed the home of their nephew, Walter Atkins, who lives on Walnut Hill.

Mr. Atkins suffered quite a loss, as the upstairs rooms of his home were flooded by the heavy rain. He and his family fled from their home in their night clothes. According to Mr. Atkins' statement, five houses in the square in which he resided were unroofed by the terrific storm.

"Stolen" Jewelry Found In Dresser

Mrs. John Olson, wife of a steel plant foundry foreman, of Offense street, who reported to the police a few days ago that thieves had stolen a lavallier, gold watch and other jewelry, found the various articles Friday morning. She believed that she had searched every nook and corner but in straightening up the contents of a dresser the jewelry that had been snugly tucked away dropped from the folds of a skirt to the floor.

Storm Breaks Up Boy Scout Camp

The terrific rainstorm of Wednesday evening played havoc with the camp of the First Presbyterian Boy Scouts in Evans Grove on Turkey Creek, necessitating the breaking up of the camp a couple of days sooner than was intended. Two or three of the tents were flooded, damaging bedding and supplies, and forcing the youths to double up in their quarters, but they stood the discomforts in true Boy Scout fashion.

Some of the lads returned home Thursday, but the majority of them came in Friday morning, accompanied by their guardian, Rev. J. W. Dunning. They left the city last Monday morning, and had an enjoyable time.

DEATH CLAIMS WRECK VICTIM

Without regaining consciousness Monroe Early, who was pinned beneath fourteen N. & W. cars when a westbound freight train was derailed one mile west of Wheelersburg Thursday morning, passed away at the Hempstead hospital Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. He was so badly injured that no hope was held out for his recovery after he was literally dug out of the pile of wreckage and the full extent of his injuries was learned. Early had his left leg crushed off and his right leg was broken in two places and he was crushed about the hips.

Relatives of the dead man at Morehead, Ky., were notified Friday and the body may be shipped there for burial. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Agnes Lewis of Morehead, one brother Marcus Early of East Portsmouth, and two children, who are in Morehead.

RIVER CITY LUMBER CO. IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

With the view of perfecting a re-organization of the company, several of the stockholders of the River City Lumber Company filed suit, through their attorneys, Milner, Miller & Searl and Bannan & Bannan, for the appointment of a receiver of the company in common pleas court late Thursday afternoon. The object of the suit, it is claimed, is to effect an amicable solution of the differences arising among the stockholders over the management of the concern.

After the attorneys for the plaintiffs had presented their arguments, Judge Thomas appointed John R. Hughes as receiver of the firm, and fixed his bond at $10,000. Gen. H. Heinisch, D. L. Webb and Albert Graf were named by the court as appraisers.

The plaintiffs to the action are Henderson V. Nave, Mary Belle Nave, Mary Belle Nave, administratrix of the estate of the late R. G. Nave, Lou Curtis, Charles B. Curtis, Elizabeth Curtis, Clinton M. Searl, Clinton M. Searl as trustee and Floyd C. Fuller. The defendants are The River City Lumber Company, James W. Smith, Edgar L. Smith, Luther C. Smith and A. T. White.

The River City Lumber Company was organized January 24, 1911, in the merger of the Smith Lumber Company with the Henley Lumber Company. It was capitalized at $100,000, and since its organization, an extensive lumber business has been conducted by the firm, which is one of the largest in the southern part of the state. Difficulties have arisen, however, over the management of the business, which led to the filing of the suit.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus causing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

PORTSMOUTH MAN BADLY HURT IN TROLLEY CRASH

Several hours after taking a job as conductor on the Interurban Railway and Terminal company of Cincinnati last Saturday morning, Ernest Starrett of this city, was thrown from the car and badly injured about the head. Near Mason, about 21 miles from Cincinnati, the front axle of the car broke causing the car to leave the tracks and go over an embankment. The rear end of the car where Starrett was standing went up in the air, hurling Starrett several feet and he struck on his head and shoulders. It took several stitches to close a cut in his head. The motorman and passengers of the car were bruised and cut by broken glass. His brother, Lee Starrett, returned Thursday from Cincinnati, where he was called by the accident.

High Water Stops Work On The Dam

The Ohio river rise has forced an almost complete suspension of work on the government dam just below the city.

The new coffer dam on the Kentucky side was completed, save for the deck, when the water submerged the work. The water will most probably wash away the decking. Company forces deprived of their regular employment are pushing work on the construction of a lower boat to be used for pouring concrete.

The towboat J. T. Hatfield got caught in the big storm of Wednesday night while passing the dam, and one of her barges was carried away, but was safely recovered. The accident delayed her several hours.

Giant Well Spouts 75,000,000 Feet

Pittsburgh, July 9.—The gas well brought in Wednesday on the farm of George Spiegel, near McKeesport, is the biggest ever drilled in Pennsylvania and is one of the largest ever struck in the United States, according to T. O. Sullivan, general manager of the Manufacturers Light and Heat company, a gas expert. Mr. Sullivan late yesterday made a test of the flow of gas and estimated the pressure at 70 pounds and the flow at least 75,000,000 cubic feet a day. He said, however, that the test was inaccurate, for because of the tremendous pressure it was impossible to hold the gauge over the mouth of the well and that he believed the flow might reach 100,000,000 cubic feet.

KICKS ON PAPER
Washington, July 9.—Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, today formally called the attention of the state department to "The Fatherland," a German paper published in New York, pointing out that it forecasted the sinking of the Lusitania and predicted internal explosion on ships sailing from the United States for the allied nations. Without making any request, the ambassador's communication declared that such publications indicated "guilty foreknowledge of a crime."

Bryan Refuses To Speak For Women

San Francisco, July 9.—Delegates Congressional Union for Women to the National Convention of the Suffrage were today discussing the refusal of William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state, to all in obtaining endorsements of their amendment to the constitution providing for national suffrage.

A committee from the Union called upon Mr. Bryan, and asked him to speak to the delegates favorably concerning the proposed amendment. In replying to the committee Mr. Bryan said:

"I would never speak for your organization. I would never move and wish to speak for any body of women that opposed the Democratic party. The Democratic party, at the expense of labor and tribulation of spirit, has taken up and solved the two paramount issues before the country—tariffs and currency reform—and any body of women opposing a party which makes such a record has not my support."

Palm Beach Suits!

In the summer, how to dress is half the problem of how to live! Your body, over-heated and fretted in heavy clothes, cannot do a fair day's work.

THE LOGICAL WEAR FOR SUMMER IS PALM BEACH SUITS

THE LOGICAL PLACE TO BUY THEM IS HERE!

Ask the men who have been buying their Palm Beach Suits from me! Those men know and they always come back, for I sell goods that won't come back to men who will come back—what better example of satisfaction can you imagine?

A poor Palm Beach Suit is like counterfeit money—it will pass but it won't last. The wrong kind of a washable suit is worse than no suit at all. My Palm Beach Suits stand the closest scrutiny and the most expert criticism.

I have the largest and best assortment of Palm Beach, Mohair and Silk Suits in the city—a statement that is backed up by the goods.

1916 Chautauqua Assured; 1915 Event Closes With One Of Best Programs Of Series

Portsmouth's 1915 Chautauqua is now a matter of history, the final program having been given at the tent Thursday evening before a splendid crowd. Strickland W. Gillilan, the famous humorist, was the headline attraction on the program, which included a concert by the Chicago Ladies' Singing Party, and a half hour with the children, under the direction of Miss Hazel Heath, the children's worker.

It was practically assured at a meeting of Chautauqua boosters Thursday afternoon that this city will have a Chautauqua next summer. The meeting was held after the afternoon program, and was presided over by I. B. Gilbert, the superintendent. Members of the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association will assist in the financial campaign to raise the guarantee fund, while the ticket selling campaign will again be in the hands of the city women.

Nothing was realized from the Chautauqua this year by the Women's Federation. There was a slight deficit, but it was made up satisfactorily with the Chautauqua management.

The program Thursday evening was of exceptional merit. Strickland W. Gillilan was in rare form before the audience of many friends and relatives. His dry quaint humor keeping the audience in a continuous uproar. The crowd seemed unwilling to let the three women composing the Chicago Ladies' Singing Party leave the stage; their numbers were enthusiastically cheered, and they were compelled to return to the stage after they had concluded their program. Their engagement in the afternoon was just as satisfactory and pleasing.

Miss Heath's half hour was also an enjoyable feature, her children covering themselves with glory with their dances and singing games. Elizabeth Wyoff and Sarah Louise Walker each told a story, which demonstrated what a week spent with a real story teller had done for them. The half hour closed with a piano solo by Harold Walker.

Chaplain O. L. Kiplinger of the Indiana state prison was the lecturer Thursday afternoon, his subject, "The Remaking and Moulding of Men," giving him excellent opportunity to relate his years of experience as the prison chaplain in Indiana. His lecture seemed to please the large crowd.

Now arrivals Thursday were Mr. Harrison, manager of Redpath Chautauqua circuit; George C. Whitehead, manager of the publicity department; and N. W. Alley, photographer of the International News Service, which has entered into co-operation with the Redpath Chautauqua management to take views for the publicity department of the two organizations. Among the views taken were one of the Kentucky hills opposite the Chautauqua tent, the Chautauqua tent, the crowds, and the Chautauqua performers.

HAD FRIENDS "ARRESTED"

Charles Spratt, embalmer at the Ligon undertaking establishment, framed up a bogus arrest on two fellow townsmen, Harry Peet, a hardware man and Jack Benton, a barber, from Richwood, O., who arrived here Thursday morning in a canoe.

When the two young men landed they were hailed by Merchant Policeman John Kielman, who placed them under arrest for "alleged entering the Ohio river from the Scioto without a permit as required by law."

He took them before Judge Alex Woodrow, who was conveniently awaiting their coming. Hearing Spratt's plea he released them on their own recognizance for appearance before him for trial at 4 p. m. They spent the balance of the afternoon looking up the law and finally tumbled that they were the victims of a practical joker.

GERMANS IN AFRICA SURRENDER

GERMANY NOT WILLING TO CONCEDE AMERICANS RIGHT TO TRAVEL IN WAR ZONE

Berlin, July 9 (10:50 a. m. via London 1:50 p. m.)---The German reply to the American note regarding the sinking of the Lusitania and submarine warfare was delivered to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador in Berlin, late last night.

Washington, July 9.—Information from Berlin that the German reply to the last American note would be handed to Ambassador Gerard today or tomorrow together with the knowledge that he was to make no comment in advance of its delivery brought the controversy between the United States and Germany to a critical point today.

The fact that the German reply was not modified from the form in which it was submitted to the American ambassador a few days ago was responsible for the feeling of pessimism because it is known that the proposals originally sent are not satisfactory to officials here. There is a disposition, however, to await the arrival of the text of the note itself so that the exact phraseology of the communication may be taken into consideration.

Ambassador Gerard's dispatches containing the outline of the note and even some of the excerpts in it were somewhat garbled in transmission and it is not altogether certain that all the points made by Germany are clearly understood as yet. Of the chief questions at issue, however, is that the German government, according to officials of the United States, is not ready to concede Americans the right to travel anywhere on the high seas on unarmed merchant ships as contended for in the last American note.

Germany has suggested that Americans may travel on belligerent ships if there is a guarantee in advance that they carry no munitions of war and are unarmed, and the vessels are marked in such a way as to be distinguishable in the war zone to German submarines, and if there is notification of the departure and character of the ships.

To comply with the suggestions, in the view of many officials, would be an unneutral act on the part of the American government, since it is not considered proper to notify one belligerent of the departure of another belligerent's ships. The proposals made by the German government would not be objectionable, it is declared, if arranged as between a belligerent in a modus vivendi or a temporary arrangement concluded merely for a fixed period of time. There is no indication, however, of any disposition on the part of the allies to separate passenger and contraband traffic, but if proposals in the form of suggestions to Great Britain had been conveyed by the United States, it is believed in well informed quarters here that pressure might have been brought to bear by the American government to secure their adoption.

It is understood that Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, has informed his government that the form of the proposals appear not to be satisfactory and has urged that if possible there be an agreement on the principle involved, leaving for further discussion the arrangement of a modus vivendi or an informal arrangement concerning the separation of a passenger and contraband traffic.

WHAT TO DO WITH HUERTA, QUESTION THAT TROUBLES CAPITAL

At the top, Pascual Orozco (1) and Victoriano Huerta (2) in court at El Paso; bottom, Huerta sympathizers outside federal court at El Paso during preliminary hearing.

What to do with Huerta is now a problem which greatly troubles Uncle Sam. The ex-dictator is in jail, but cannot be kept there always, and it is doubtful if a case can be made against him. The accompanying pictures were taken in El Paso at the time when Huerta and Orozco were held for the grand jury. Both were given liberty under bail, but Orozco escaped and Huerta was re-arrested and jailed.

Orozco is one of Huerta's best friends. Their friendship sprang out of the bitterest enmities that have ever characterized the Mexican revolutionary warfare. Orozco revolted against Madero in March, 1912. Huerta, distrusted by Madero, was then a general without a command. Orozco captured Juarez and then began a triumphant march on Chihuahua. Madero sent his war minister to take command of the forces against Orozco. He was unsuccessful in battle and was killed. Then Huerta was sent against Orozco. In one of the greatest battles ever fought in northern Mexico Orozco was defeated. Their friendship dated from that moment.

MILITARY FORCES LAY DOWN ARMS

Pretoria, South Africa, (via London) July 9.—General Botha, commander of the Union of South Africa, has accepted the surrender of all German military forces in German Southwest Africa.

After suppressing the rebellion against British authority in the Union of South Africa, General Botha took command of the British operations against German Southwest Africa and headed the invasion of that territory late in February. His operations were reported to be uniformly successful.

The forces under his command captured Olymbingue on May 4. Two days later it was announced that he had occupied the important railway junction of Karibib and other stations after a march of 35 miles over a waterless waste during which the troops suffered severely from heat, thirst and hunger.

The roads to Windhoek, capital of the German territory, was opened by the occupation of Keetmanshop. Windhoek was taken May 13 without opposition on the part of the German forces. Martial law was proclaimed throughout the conquered territory.

Reports from London recently have stated that the surrender of all the German forces was expected soon. British military experts have contended that General Botha has conducted a masterly campaign.

German Southwest Africa is located on the west coast of Africa extending from the Orange river to the Cunene river, about 900 miles. It lies between Portuguese West Africa and Cape Colony extending eastward to the British.

The area is 322,450 square miles. The population is 79,558, chiefly Hottentots and Bushmen. The European population in 1913 was 14,815, of whom 12,292 were Germans. The military force, including police is given in the latest reports as 2,992.

STEAMER FIRED BY EXPLOSION SPEEDING TOWARDS HALIFAX

New York, July 9.—The Atlantic Transport line steamship Minnehaha, loaded with 15,000 tons of cargo, much of which was munitions of war, consigned to the allies in Europe, was speeding towards Halifax, N. S., today, with a fire in her No. 3 hold. The last wireless message received here from Captain Claret of the Minnehaha said that the blaze had been controlled by suffocation and steam.

According to Captain Claret's reckoning the Minnehaha was due off Quebec Head at the entrance to Halifax harbor at 9 o'clock this morning.

Whether the fire was caused by the explosion of a bomb placed on board the Minnehaha before she left New York on July 4 for London, by Frank Holt, the man who shot J. P. Morgan and committed suicide in the Minco, L. I., crime, was expected to be the subject of an inquiry soon after the steamer arrived. Captain Claret had reported merely that the fire was caused by an explosion.

Suspicion that either Holt or an accomplice had placed a bomb on board the Minnehaha was aroused by the partial fulfillment of his prediction of disaster to a steamer on her way from New York to Europe. The explosion took place on the day he had set for the sinking of the steamer which he believed would be either the Saxonia or the Philadelphia.

The inquiry of the suicide of Holt was postponed from yesterday until today. An inspection of several hundred letters of Holt's found in his room at Ithaca gave the police no hint that Holt had an accomplice. A large number of clippings found in his room dealt with stories of insanity and crime.

STEAMER DETAINED

London, July 6.—(Delayed by Censor)—The steamer Muskogee, from New Orleans to Gothenburg, Sweden, has been detained and taken to Kirkwall for examination.

The tank steamers Pioneer and Polarine have been released.

The Muskogee, sailed from New Orleans June 7, arrived at Newport News June 14 and sailed the same day for Gothenburg. This is her second detention by the British authorities. She was held up at Kirkwall from April 7 to April 16, when on her way to Copenhagen with a cargo of oil and then released.

FAMINE THREATENED THROUGHOUT MEXICO

Washington, July 9.—Officials of the United States were discussing informally today the possibility of President Wilson taking further steps to bring about a restoration of peace in Mexico. This discussion was based upon reports from the United States consuls in the northern part that decisive action to bring peace to the southern republic be taken within a month.

The consuls refer to the threat of famine in Mexico, inability of the heads of the warring factions to bring peace and predict that if prompt action is not taken by the United States conditions far worse than ever will prevail. As a solution of Mexico's internal troubles it is urged that recognition be accorded some element that it may establish a strong government.

THAW BEGINS SECOND DAY AS A WITNESS

New York, July 9.—This was the second day of Harry K. Thaw's testimony as a witness for the state in his sanity trial. His examination had proceeded as far as the campaign of publicity to gain public opinion in his fight for freedom, which Thaw conducted while in New Hampshire. The witness has reviewed the story told him by Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw about the shooting of Stanford White and has denied stories told by Mrs. Susan Merrill regarding his alleged eccentric behavior at her house in New York.

While testifying Thaw is constantly under the observation of the state's two alienists, who may be the next witnesses.

Word had been received here that a writ calling upon Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw to appear in court here and explain why she did not respond to a subpoena as a witness had been served upon her at Chateaugay Lake, and that a physician would examine her today to ascertain whether she is physically capable of making the journey to New York.

DECLARES 'ARMED PEACE' IS INEVITABLE WAR

Chicago, July 9.—"Armed peace" has proved itself inevitable war, Dr. J. A. McDonald, editor of the Toronto, Canada, Globe, told delegates attending the Christian Endeavor convention today in an address on "Christianity, the War and the Social Problem."

SAYS HE'LL KILL ALL WHO CROSS

Douglas, Ariz., July 9.—Word of threats made by Alfred Duarte, a leader of Mexican bandits, to kill all foreigners that cross the international boundary line into Mexico after today, was brought here by Ralph A. Meyer, an American manager of the Maule Cristo mine, and R. H. Sims, an El Paso banker, who were forced to pay the bandit $50 gold ransom on June 24, when the mining camp was raided.

Duarte, according to Sims, said that while he was a prisoner at Fort Bliss and Wingate, he had been badly treated by the United States troops and he intended to revenge himself by killing all foreigners who entered Mexico after July.

Dr. McDonald appealed for a world endeavor to make dominant in world policies the undisputed socialism of Jesus, as a means of preventing wars.

TWENTY-NINE BODIES RECOVERED IN RUINS, CINCINNATI IS NORMAL

Cincinnati, July 9.—While twenty-nine bodies of victims of the devastating storm of Wednesday night had been recovered it was still impossible early today to give a definite estimate of the total loss of life. A score or more of persons were reported to be missing, and until they have been accounted for, no accurate estimate of the death toll can be made.

Among the missing were six members of the crew of the towboat Convoy, which was sunk by striking a pier of the Southern railway bridge in the Ohio river. Other members of the crew of the boat had narrow escapes from drowning, but the missing men have not been heard from. The other persons reported missing are believed to have been in the wrecked buildings or on some craft in the river when the storm broke.

Search for bodies continued in the wreckage of buildings and along the shores of the river today.

Except for the collapsed buildings little effect of the storm could be seen in the business section of this city and in the over-river towns in Kentucky. All debris had been removed from the streets and street cars were running on regular schedule time.

Washington, Ind., July 9.—The storm which swept over this section of Indiana Wednesday night, not only brought a property loss estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000 but death trailed in its wake. It became known today that four lives were snuffed out and three persons injured so severely that their recovery is doubtful.

The dead:

Joel Lyon, farmer, killed when home was demolished.

Twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, crushed when home was destroyed.

Howard Ward, farmer, drowned in gorged stream.

Probably fatally injured:

Mrs. James Moore.

Miss Eliza Sanders, 8 years old sister of Mrs. Moore, left leg crushed off.

Mrs. Fred Wildman, daughter of Joel Lyon.

The storm paralyzed all telephone communication until a late hour last night which prevented the extent of the havoc becoming known before.

Apologizes To U. S. For Attack In Paper

Vienna, (Via London) July 9.—Formal apology has been made by the Austria-Hungarian government to the United States Ambassador (Frederick C. Penfield, because of an article printed in the Neues Wiener Tagblatt, attacking President Wilson and the people in connection with the second note protesting against German methods of submarine warfare.

A rigid censorship is exercised over Austrian papers. Ambassador Penfield has informally asked the foreign office if the article represented the opinion of the Austrian government. The result was an apology and a sharp reprimand for the official censor.

IRONTON NAILERS BLANKED SPENCERITES 2 TO 0

LOCAL PLAYERS UNABLE TO SOLVE MEYERS' DELIVERY

Ironton, Ohio, July 9.

"Too much Meyers." That is the opinion that put the Portsmouth Cobblers to sleep on the hard, hard bed of defeat yesterday. The Nailers clubbing out a victory in the second inning, which was their only big frame, so far as scoring was concerned. In the second frame, Gilmore started a safe and sane celebration by plugging a hit to center.

Henderson joined in the said celebration with a two-base crash to right and Jimmy Lavender proved to be the man of the hour, laying a lovely little hit just back of second base and giving Gilmore and Henderson oodles of time to score. Lavender went to second while the ball was being tossed about but died there when McDaniels was tossed out, Caton to Spencer. Meyers made the third out by whiffing, as Perry had previously been killed off for the first out, on an aerial propulsion to McHenry.

McHenry had plenty of speed and good control in punches and held the hard hitting Cobblers to two clean hits and one Zimminy base hit. Hancock, who graced the hillcock for the Cubs, had everything and pitched a splendid game and his support was of the very finest variety. Had it not been for the one big inning which the Nailers enjoyed, the game would probably have run into extra innings. The Cobbs threatened to score in the very first inning and again in the ninth, when they placed two men on the cushions with but one down.

"This Meyers person made himself obnoxious to the Cobblers throughout the game, despite the fact that he and the other members of the Nailers team slept on the Ironton-Ashland ferryboat, during the storm that swept this southern Wednesday night. The local athletes were a weary, sleepy gang but they pulled themselves together and won the game.

In the first inning Dills was walked by Meyers and Dillhoefer sacrificed him, Henderson to Ollom. Sharmen was safe on Stadler's mule of his easy roller and right here the Nailers pulled themselves together and the old infield lightened up like a drum. Caton bounced to Meyers and was out at Henderson's station, and Spencer relieved the fans by rolling to Ollom and pershing at Henderson's quarters. Ollom, Stadler and Caton all were thrown out at first in the opening round by Caton, Bush and Caton, respectively.

Meyers started the second inning badly also, hitting Bush on the arm with his smoke ball. McHenry was credited an infield single, when Meyers threw to second too late to catch Bush. Uhlir sacrificed, Meyers to Henderson, but Hancock popped to McDaniels and Dills was a "crippin", Ollom to Henderson.

The next inning we approach with much joy and praise for our noble warriors for it was in this second inning that they clubbed in the two runs that placed our gang on the winning end of the fray.

After this eventful round the game saved back and forth with fast and furious play featuring the coolest, Coldest glove found since of Sharmen's terrific chout directed at the left field wall compelled the meagre crowd of loyal fans to rise up on its haunches and shout the praises of our valiant left gardener, and this same Mr. Sharmen to gnash his teeth in rage.

That occurred in the eighth inning with one down and prevented any halting legs that the Cobblers might have been disposed to launch had they been given the proper encouragement. The catch by Caton was to deny Sharmen for an unneeded catch by that individual, who handcuffed a terrible line drive to center in the second from Mr. Caton's bat that would more than likely have been good for three fourths of the circuit, and possibly the other fourth would have been negotiated by our massive left captain.

Splendid catches by Ollom, Stadler, Lavender and Caton were also glowing features of the session.

In the ninth the Cobblers bade fare to score a deal of runs but their foul purpose was frustrated very rudely. Spencer loitered in Perry for a starter in this round but Bush secured a walk. McHenry then poked to left and both runners advanced to third and second respectively when Uhlir went out Meyers to Henderson. Jacobus was sent into bat for Hancock and his smoking, sizzling infield cut over second base was snipped by Stadler in circus style and a toss to Henderson ended

BOOSTER DAY PLANS WILL BE ELABORATE

President William Gableman and Vice President William Zofmann put a busy day Thursday distributing Booster Day tickets. They met with encouragement all along the line and the day is to be made a gala affair in local baseball circles.

Every loyal fan should assist the club in its efforts to sell 1,000 tickets for Booster Day. The tickets will be good for any game except on Labor Day. The committees will call on practically every fan in the city and through a systematic canvass expect to sell the allotted number of tickets. It is to be made the biggest Booster Day in the history of the River City. While other towns are throwing up the sponge the Ohio State League towns are faithfully sticking to their guns and Portsmouth hopes to set the pace when it comes to closing a bad season on the right side of the ledger. Make arrangements to buy as many tickets as possible. You will keep your favorite game in the city, will help keep the league intact and give employment to a band of young ball players, who are working conscientiously in behalf of their respective teams.

Pitched Fine Game

"Hancock pitched a beautiful game at Ironton Thursday, one that would have been a winner nine times out of ten," said Manager Spencer last night. Jacobus batted as pinch hitter in the ninth and hit one over second base, but the diamond was heavy and Stadler made a great play on it. And there were runners on second and third," said Manager Spencer last night.

GOOD WAY TO FILL THEIR PARK

The Wards, of the Brookfords, by throwing open the gates of their park and letting in everybody free, proved that there are nearly 10,000 people in the whole of Greater New York who will look at a Fed game once, at least, provided it doesn't cost anything, and good music and cabaret is furnished as a sort of equalizer. The Wards are said to be so well pleased at seeing a crowd in their park for once that they have determined to stage free days regularly from now on.

Pitchers Were Wild

Manager Spencer took a run down from Ironton Thursday to pay a short visit to his family. He says the team would have won every game at Charleston had it secured good pitching. "We played pretty good ball in Charleston, but our pitchers were wild," said the local manager last night.

MUST LIKE JUDGMENT OF FIELDER JONES SLAMMED OUT HOME RUN

A story told by a Federal league correspondent would indicate that Fielder Jones is looked upon by the other Fed managers as a sort of general playing adviser for the whole league.

Several of the managers, it is stated, have been in conference with Jones for the purpose of having him outline to them wherein their tactics are at fault. Jones inspects their teams, notes the weaknesses and then gives the expert advice. Whether they follow it or not, Jones goes out and beats them just the same. It's a peculiar situation, anyway. Think of Dumbie Mack or John McHenry telling any other team manager how he might win from the Athletics or the Giants.

Diked in New "Unnies"

Federal league umpires have been diked in to summer uniforms of light gray, which will be all right until one of them gets in the way of some ball, who will then make an awful hole that he couldn't see the ball for the background.

Walter Johnson hasn't won a game since he became a pro. He is probably worrying about supporting three people on such small wages.

SOME SMOKE, LITTLE FIRE

(Sporting News)

President Herrmann of the Reds denies that there is any deal on for the transfer of Herzog to the Cubs, and President Thomas of the Cubs comes back and says that despite all denials there is a "chance" for the transfer. All of which indicates that where there is so much smoke there must be some fire.

Jones To Stick

St. Louis, July 9.—Fielder Jones, suspended manager of the St. Louis Federal league, announced today that he had reconsidered his resignation which he telegraphed to Phil Ball, principal owner of the club, after a dispute with Umpire Howell in the Kansas City game last Monday.

MINORS HAVE TROUBLES

Prepared, Ill., July 9.—The refusal of the Racine Club to play in a four-team circuit resulted today in the dissolution of the Ill.-State League, organized a few months ago with five clubs in Illinois and one in Wisconsin. Two of the teams quit Monday. The Prepared Association then received an offer from President Tarnsey of the Three-I League, by which Prepared would take the place of Dubuque in the Three-I.

Pleasant As A Big Boil

It must be comforting to the veteran Jack Meyers to know that Manager McGraw is trying to get him off the payroll and that even Cincinnati will not have him.

Cards Need A Shortstop

The St. Louis Cardinals are looking ahead for a shortstop, the job that never has been filled since Arnold Hauser got religion so strong that he had to be sent to a sanatorium. The Cardinals have purchased Dick Harmsby, who is now with the Denison team of the Western Association.

Shovelin Is Going Fine

Johnny Shovelin is going like a house afire with the Columbus Senators these days. With the bat he has been the biggest man on the line-up for the past week. Wednesday he landed for three out of four including a double and a home run. The home run was the longest made on the Kansas City park this season.

M'HENRY MADE SWELL CATCH

(Charleston Post)

McHenry made a great catch out in left field Wednesday when he robbed Jake Daubert of a possible home run. Jake smote one full in the face and McHenry started on the ground. He jumped into the air, lost his balance and fell, but still clung to the ball.

ROWLAND MAKES WINNING TEAM BY SUBSTITUTING "WE" FOR "I"

Chicago, July 9.—Want to know how it happens that the White Sox, a sixth place aggregation a year ago, now are pounding the American league trail at a pennant winning clip?

If you do, list to the explanation of Clarence (Pants) Rowland, the pilot from the bushes who's likely to upset all the depressed presidents of former years and the mossgrown tradition of the diamond by leading a pennant winner his first year in the majors.

"We've eliminated the 'I's on this club," says Rowland, whose splendid catch police hasn't been the least bit shaken by his success.

"Every one around this club says 'we' and no individual takes the credit for winning to himself. Lots of big league managers have 'I'd' themselves out of their jobs.

"Being a manager in the bushes is just about as hard as being a pilot in the majors. Up here the lot of a manager is easier in many ways than a bush leaguer has it. The major league manager has better tools to work with. He has the pennant in his hand. We've got to beat out only the Boston Red Sox. I've thought that from the start and my first impression is being verified.

"Every ball club should get out and play the best baseball it is capable of playing. The players owe that to the public which supports them in earning their livelihood, and it's pretty little to ask that man put forth his best efforts at a job which he works only about two hours a day.

"Don't give a manager so much credit for having a winning team. The players are the main factors. The manager does his little part, but no manager can be great without a great club.

"I'm satisfied with the club I have. The White Sox forms a happy harmonious ball club. We have the best pitching staff in the league, the best second baseman and the best catcher. We couldn't ask for much more.

"I wouldn't have a player who didn't work in well with the others and who set a bad example, regardless of how great a star he might be."

"How did Comiskey find me, you ask? Comiskey has known me ever since I was a shaver in knickerbockers. His wife hails from Dubuque, Ia., where I was manager and his son was born in Dubuque. Comiskey knows everything there is to be known about Rowland."

And this young man from the bushes seems fated to make good on the confidence Comiskey has reposed in him. His promotion hasn't turned his head.

FEDS WANT LEJEUNE

New York, July 9.—Lee Magee manager of the Brooklyn Federals, said last night there was no possibility of Buck Knoff being traded to Chicago. He will play with Brooklyn when his suspension is over, or not at all, and that is final, said Magee.

Magee today released Pitcher Herro to New Haven of the Colonial league, and recalled Pitcher Phil Walker from that club. Third-base man Westerland, recently sent to Chicago has been returned by that club. Magee said he has made an offer to full-fielder Lejeune, released by the Pittsburgh Nationals a few weeks ago.

HOLMES WILL GET CLUB

The deal for Holmes pending the closing of the South Michigan league race, has been on since Friday and it will likely be completed today when Owner Welmer of the local club returns to this city. Place Big Orders For Machine Tools

Cleveland, Ohio, July 9.—The Iron Trade Review today says: The first half of the year ended with very heavy specifications on contracts for shapers, plates, bars and other finished steel materials. In many cases requests of consumers to be allowed to specify in excess of contracts were declined by the manufacturers on account of the recent rapid increase in placing of orders, and also because of confidence in the future.
